

BELLE ASTUTE E CORAGGIOSE

Pretty, clever and brave but also patient, wise and very imaginative: the little girls in these stories are unafraid of facing up to life, its obstacles and complications. And they do it armed with energy, willpower and good spirits. The stories have been written for young girl readers who like light, funny stories with unexpected twists. Fairytale and adventurous settings in far-off and imaginary worlds, characters who come out on top of tricky situations relying on their own skills and imagination: these are the ingredients of this series of girls' books. There is no romance, they are about pretty heroines who are not sugary sweet, but kind and purposeful.

Camilla and Philip, the twin children of Osvaldo, the zookeeper, welcome you to their Zoo, a place where animals feel at home - no cages, no pens, anything can happen. Even humans would like to live in a place like this! It's all very green: a refuge for animals in danger of extinction. With new arrivals, daring escapes, sick animals, baby animals about to be born, monkeys that have gone mad, albino giraffes and presumed African witch doctors, there's never a dull moment. Never!

LETTERE E DIARI

Letters and diaries have always been very important in the process of growing up. This series attempts to explore the hidden garden of pre-adolescence and adolescence from the kid's point of view: the first unforgettable kiss, the search for an identity, the need to communicate, the importance of feeling part of a group... in short: the whole turmoil of growing up. With their balanced blend of humour and earnestness, these books - written by the most popular Italian authors - make us understand what teenagers really feel.

HOTEL OLIMPO

A series dedicated entirely to the Greek Gods and Goddess, written to tell their tales of “common immortals”. Sabina Colloredo captures all the adventures, the emotions and the bickering that went on between the gods, in a modern key, with bright, amusing illustrations by Antongionata Ferrari. The texts have been thoroughly researched, but manage to be light and ironic.

A series dedicated to dancing, the love of dancing, and the hard work involved in dancing. It is set in the most prestigious dance school in a large city: the Academy is run by the inflexible Madame Olenska. Zoe, the main character, is ten years old and is of outstanding talent. She has been studying at the Academy since she was six. Zoe is thoughtful; she looks calm but is actually impulsive and unpredictable. With her friends she experiences not only the ballet world but also clashes, difficulties, jealousy, friendships which break up and others which are struck up among desks and at the bar...

A perfect series for girls eager to grow up. For little girls who can dream. For little girls ready to fly...
