What do you need?

GIANNI RODARI

To make a table you need wood, to make the wood you need a tree, to make a tree you need a seed, to make a seed you need a fruit, to make a fruit you need a flower...

The text is a perfect example of how Rodari used nursery rhymes as a 'poetic toy,' theorizing the importance for children of poetry experienced as a game, without giving up on presenting meaningful contents.
